

To day we have put together a Christmas theme in Black/silver purple and red forming a perfect mix of traditional and contemporary colours.

Marion Creedon Hegarty has been in the fashion business now for over 25 years when she started working from her garage as an image consultant.

After seventeen years working as a very successful image consultant, she diversified into retailing and wholesaling ladies accessories after a number of her customers complained that they couldn't find good quality, fashionable costume jewellery to their needs.

Maroons accessories covers every occasion debs, weddings, races and of course the Christmas festivities.

She saw the opening for a wholesale jewellery outlet outside of Cork, and therefore decided to establish a wholesale outlet in fashion city in Dublin, two years ago which has proven to be a huge success.

Because of her background as an image consultant Marion has a very keen eye for what suits her clients. Her accessories are carefully chosen for their quality colour and femininity at very affordable prices.

Her accessories are available in hundred of outlets nationwide
